

Health & Safety Policy

Statement

The Company is committed to providing for the health, safety and welfare of all of its employees and will observe the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 and all relevant regulations and codes of practice made under that Act from time to time.

The Company recognises that the health, safety and welfare of all employees, whether on the Company's premises or carrying out Company's business elsewhere is primarily the Management's responsibility and that, further, a duty of care extends to other persons whilst they are on the Company premises.

The Management of health and safety issues is the duty of the Company Directors and ranks equally with their responsibilities for production, sales, costs and associated matters. The Company Directors have a duty to ensure that this policy is upheld at all times and provide the necessary funds and manpower required.

Although the implementation of this policy is a management responsibility, it is the duty of all employees to act responsibly, and to do everything that they can to prevent injury to themselves and fellow workers.

The Company will conduct itself in such a way to ensure, so far as is reasonably practicable, that persons not in its employment who may be affected by the Company's operations, are not exposed to risk to their health and safety. Where such risks exist these will be brought to the attention of its employees.

Organisation (people and their duties)

Overall and final responsibility for Health & Safety in the Company is that of:
