

Curtis Bailey

> BUSINESS DEVELOPEMENT DIRECTOR

As a founding director at TechNET it has been an immense pleasure shaping and developing our group of agencies over the years and making our mark as a global talent partner.

My passion is building and developing relationships with new and existing clients. It's an amazing place to be, selling the concept of our agency and then that translating in to our clients successful growth and development. Passion, integrity and respect underpin my role and is this is reflected through the entire agency.

MY EXPERTISE:

- > New client engagement
- > Master vendor agreements
- > MSP
- > Sole Supplier agreements
- > High level discussions - Contract & Permanent
- > IR35 / AWR Impact
- > Campaign recruitment
- > Talent & Brand solutions

RECOMMENDATIONS:

"The recruitment industry is bursting at the seams with countless recruiters who overpromise and under deliver. They claim that they "take time to listen", "deliver outstanding quality" and "deliver results on a tight deadline". Almost 100% of the time, they fail on all three claims. They're unquantifiable areas and so they continue to make claims and when they fail they bring down the reputation of the industry. But the proof of their claims is in the delivery. TechNET IT is the only company I have ever used for recruitment that I can trust and that delivers every time. If I were to select an exclusive recruitment company, it would definitely be them and Curtis himself has been a fast, efficient, friendly and professional face of the company to me. Absolutely top marks!"

Tom Holliday
Talent Manager, EMC

"I have worked with Curtis and his team for close to ten years, he has never failed to deliver with true professionalism. He is a "people person" with a real talent for spotting that special something in people he recommends. He knows his reputation goes with any candidate he puts forward and I have never been disappointed. Curtis has an ability to grasp requirements and fulfil a promise. I have no hesitation in recommending Curtis and his organisation as an exceptional solution provider. If you need high quality professional expert resources, then use one to find them."

Paul C Dwyer
Chief Executive Officer,
Cyber Risk International

"Curtis has always delivered recruitment results for me both personally and by using his team, no matter how last minute or abstract the requests were, in both the contract and permanent markets. A shining example of how recruiters should operate."
