RECOMMENDATIONS:

“James is one of the most enthusiastic, energetic and driven individuals I’ve ever had the pleasure of meeting. He has an unparalleled drive to achieve which runs throughout his company, this combined with his attention to detail and eagerness to satisfy has led to a company ethos which is second to none. James is the perfect role model to any recruitment consultant, a real people person with a great sense of humor and is definitely ‘one of the good guys’. It was an absolute pleasure to work for him.”

“Whilst at SAP we were months of launching a new line of business and needed to hire 20+ people across sales, services and support in short order. We had struggled to find good candidates which was putting our launch at risk so we engaged TechNET. We met with their leadership and consultants who worked to understand both our functional and cultural requirements. TechNET were able to bring us candidates within the first week and we hired 10+ people within a 5 week period which enabled us to successfully launch on time. All the candidates we hired through TechNET proved to be great hires and so I would have no hesitation in recommending James Gunning and his team at Technet.”
